assessment
   a judgment of a situation
   "An EMT must remain calm in order to provide an accurate assessment."

bandage
   to wrap a bandage around the injured body part
   "After the wound is cleaned, it has to be bandaged."

bleeding
   the process of losing blood
   "Instructed by an EMT, Amy pressed hard on the wound until the bleeding slowed."

blood transfusion
   the injection of blood taken from one person into the bloodstream of another
   "The victim has lost a lot of blood and blood transfusion is necessary."

burn
   an injury which is caused by fire, heat or a dangerous substance
   "She suffered burns to her right arm and parts of her back in the accident in the laboratory."

casualty
   someone who is killed or injured in an accident
   "There are no reports of casualties in the accident."

composure
   being calm and confident
   "Despite being devastated by the news, Rupert quickly regained his composure."

constricted smaller and more narrow
   "When pupils are unnaturally constricted, look for head injuries."

dilated more open and wider
   "Dilated pupils may be the sign of drug intake."
dispatcher
a person responsible for sending vehicles to the place where they are needed
"The dispatcher answered the phone and heard a weak voice saying: Please, help me."

dosage
the amount of medicine which should be given "Unwanted side effects may occur if the recommended daily dosage is exceeded."

hazardous dangerous to people’s health or safety
"These chemicals are hazardous to human health."

immobilize
to make a person unable to move
"If a limb is broken, immobilize it as soon as possible."

injury
damage to body suffered in an accident
"The passenger suffered minor head injuries."

poisoning
an illness which is caused by eating, drinking and breathing a dangerous substance
"Call emergency services immediately in case of any suspicion of mushroom poisoning."

pulse
the regular movement of blood which is pumped round the body by the heart
"The paramedic rushed to take her pulse but unfortunately felt nothing."

pupil the opening in the center of the eye which lets light in "Pupils dilate (open bigger) as a response to low light situations, danger, sexual arousal, and certain drugs."

splint to secure a fractured bone
"Proceed with caution when attempting to splint a broken leg."

traumatic
making you feel shocked and upset
"Being in a traffic accident is always a traumatic experience."
vital signs

any signs showing that a person is alive

"The primary vital signs include body temperature, blood pressure and pulse."