Unit #33 Inflammation and Infection I

Below is a list of the vocabulary needed to pass this unit with a good score.

appendicitis
the inflammation of the appendix
"He was diagnosed with appendicitis and rushed to hospital."

arthritis
inflammation of the joints
"Arthritis is more common among the elderly than younger people."

bacterial
of or connected to bacteria "Bacterial infections should be treated with antibiotics."

balanitis
inflammation of the penis
"He was prescribed antibiotics to treat the balanitis."

bronchitis
an inflammation of the bronchi
"Even after bronchitis has been treated, a wet cough can last a further 2 weeks."

cellulitis
inflammation of connective tissue
"Make sure you disinfect the wound to stop bacteria entering and causing cellulitis."

colpitis
an inflammation of the vagina "Colpitis can occur as an allergic reaction to spermicide."

conjunctivitis
an inflammation of the eye
"Bacterial conjunctivitis is more serious than viral conjunctivitis."

cystitis
the inflammation of the urinary bladder
"Most cases of cystitis are caused by E.coli bacteria."

dermatitis
an inflammation of the skin
"Dermatitis is likely to occur if the skin is exposed to an irritant or allergen."
determine
to find out or find the reason
"Tests were carried out to determine the cause of his shortness of breath."

duritis
inflammation of the dura mater
"The doctor is unsure of the problem but is testing for duritis."

dysentery
infection of the intestines
"Many travelers in India report cases of abdominal pains which later prove to be dysentery."

endometritis
the inflammation of the interior lining of the uterus
"A diet rich in fruit, vegetables and seeds can be beneficial to women with endometritis."

erythroderma
red skin
"The most common cause of erythroderma is exacerbation of an underlying skin disease."

gastritis
inflammation of the stomach
"There are many natural remedies for gastritis, such as green tea, probiotics and essential oils."

glossitis
inflammation of the kidney "Glossitis is often caused by nutritional deficiencies and can cause oral discomfort."

gonorrhea
a bacterial infection in sex organs
"The number of reported cases of gonorrhea in the US has increased by over 75%."

hepatitis
inflammation of the liver
"In many cases hepatitis B is contracted through sexual contact."

immunodeficiency
failure of the immune system to protect the body adequately from infection
"An immunodeficiency can be caused by poor nutrition and bad sanitation."

---
copyright Medical English. Please visit www.medicalenglish.com for more information.